From Deacon Mike:

Now that my time has ended as the Temporary Administrator for St. Elizabeth Ann Seton, many of you have asked me if I plan to stay on at SEAS. After discussing my thoughts with Fr. Paul, I am delighted to say that I will stay at SEAS on a part-time basis, sharing time with St. Joseph Church in Fredonia.

I take this opportunity to thank you for all of the kindness and generosity that you have shown me as administrator, and I hope that I have brought some hope and stability to the Parish. There are many talented and dedicated people working at SEAS and I wish to continue to be available to serve you as needed. May God continue to bless the good works that are taking place in this Parish! Peace and Good Blessings, Deacon Mike

When it Rains, It Pours In 1911, the Morton Salt Company started adding magnesium carbonate, an anti-caking agent, to their salt. This allowed the salt to pour freely, even in damp weather. To emphasize their free-pouring salt, they came up with advertising to communicate that idea.

They decided upon the famous umbrella girl image quickly, and then they worked on a slogan. "Even in rainy weather, it flows freely" said what they wanted, but had too many words. Next, they thought of the old proverb, "It never rains, but it pours." But that was nixed when they decided it was too negative.

Then they hit on one that was just right, one that has stood the test of time and been in continuous use by the company ever since: "When it rains, it pours." Since 1914, both the umbrella girl (which was an artist's rendition and not based on a particular girl) and the slogan have been integral parts of the company's message and advertising. Has that slogan ever rung true in your life? Faced with one bad thing, you find that another is close at hand. One bright spot in those challenging times of life is that, even in the midst of the trials, we often sense God's presence most clearly.
